LAAX: Freestyle Academy

Set to be Europe's first indoor freestyle hall, the LAAX Freestyle Academy has opened at the base station in Laax on 4 December 2010 with facilities suitable for freestyle skiers, snowboarders and bikers. Within a safe padded environment they will be able to perfect the latest tricks before hitting the mountain in the snow parks or even on Europe's largest half pipe. The Freestyle Academy is a natural addition to the resort's vibrant freestyle scene and guarantees year-round training regardless of the weather.

Freestyle for everyone

The Freestyle Academy will offer expert instructors offering a range of courses for all abilities, including an introductory course must first be completed. Snowflex is the latest indoor material which will coat the facilities allowing freestylers to use their own sports equipment. After bringing to perfection existing moves and try out new ones in the safety of a padded environment the riders can try the jumps and tricks in the snowparks and half pipe on the mountain. The challenging jumps, ramps and rails will attract pro riders but the Academy also makes for an alternative if not unusual venue for corporate events.
